MEET THE STAFF

This year there has been a bunch of changes in the world of Northern Complex! The most important change is the administration. Instead of Mr. Jim Maddy we now have Mr. David Yoder who has stepped into the place of Principal at both the high school and middle school. We also have Mr.Brian Schilpp stepping in for Dr.Yolanda Harmon as our new Vice Principal.

Jennifer Knauff, NHS Nurse, has been in our area for 10 years! She spent some years on the Southern end and some on the Northern end. Before moving down to NHS she was located at Northern Middle School. "If I didn't move down here now I couldn't move in the future."

FAREWELL MRS. AHERN

Debra Ahern, secretary of Northern Garrett high school for 23 years, Has finally decided to retire. We all are sad to see her go, and will miss her and all the emails she has sent us over the years keeping everyone up to date on all the major and minor events. In 1975, Debra graduated from NHS. After she retires she will pursue babysitting her grandson Lincoln.

It's Sweater Weather

Lockers slam, school bells ring, back to school, fall floods in. Pull out your sweaters, buy your coffees, bring your books, get cozy and let's begin. The air is cold, and the trees begin to lose their leaves. Red, brown, yellow, and green; colors floating on the wind. It's that time of the year, it's finally fall!

56TH AUTUMN GLORY FESTIVAL

Wednesday, October 11 - Sunday, October 15, 2023

The Autumn Glory Festival is an annual fall festival that takes place in the town of Oakland. It originated from a group of turkey growers organizing and promoting turkey dinner, which attracts more than sixty thousand visitors from different states to visit Garrett County in the beautiful fall season every October. The Grand Feature Parade, in which the NHS marching band and JROTC participate, opens the festival, and following events like Fall Foliage Driving Tours, Kick-off Reception & Dinner are part of the festival. There's also a map called the Turkey Trail which signs local restaurants, churches, and organizations that serve turkey dinner. This year, we celebrated the 56th Annual Autumn Glory Festival.

Farmer's Market

Mountain Fresh Farmer's Market, a great place to get fresh local products, is right beside the rotary park and was full of people with lots of energy during the Autumn Glory Festival, there were lots of stands celebrating fall season and the Autumn Glory Festival. Including fall decorations, handmade crochet pumpkins, local honey, bakeries, and much more.

NORTHERN GARRETT HIGH SCHOOL

Sarah Sung

"It was honorable to be able to march with the flag at such a big parade like Autumn Glory." Sarah (12), an exchange student from Taiwan, marched at Autumn Glory with our JROTC team. Due to bad weather, she describes that her marching experience was not easy. It was rainy and she was hungry during a long wait. However, she also told us that it was a successful march at the end. "It was a good and huge parade... It definitely is memorable and I got the sense of achievement after marching."

Rachelle Brenneman

"I was extremely happy to get out of the poncho and switch into a new pair of socks because they were soaked from the rain." Rachelle (11), an active member of NHS band has been marching at the Autumn Glory festival for 3 years now, she shares her marching experience at Autumn Glory 2023. "It was rainy so the band had our ponchos. For the parade the rain settled down and I was very hot under all the layers."

2023 Autumn Glory Q

"Autumn Glory was such an incredible experience!" Sophia Rankin (12), who had an experience in Autumn Glory 2022 for a robotic parade, decided to try out for Autumn Glory Queen this year as her friends had been chosen as Autumn Glory queens before and also because she saw it as an opportunity that could inspire other people. "I was so excited! Though I was really nervous to find out whether I had gotten it or not." She shared her feelings after finding out that she had been chosen for the queen. She also shared her experience with Autumn Glory 2023, "I met so many incredible people, it truly was such a blessing! I was so honored to have been chosen, it was so much fun! And it's something that I wouldn't have traded for the world!"

Madeline Smith (9) at homecoming with her friend.

"Loser, I went with a bunch of friends." said Madeline Smith, a freshman who attended homecoming at Northern Garrett High School for the first time. She describes her experience at homecoming was fun and chaotic, and says that she liked the music and had a lot of fun dancing, which is mostly just jumping up and down with the music. However, she seems to have a passion about more food options in the upcoming dances. "I wish there were more water. I went back to get water but they ran out of it. "And they should have pizza!"

Alexus Brown (9), at homecoming with her date.

"Homecoming was fun. Very chaotic," said Alexus Brown, a freshman who attended homecoming at Northern Garrett High School for the first time. "I wanted to see what it was about, and to hangout with bunch of people." She shares her experience at homecoming. "I like dancing, I'm just not very good at it. And I wanted to hangout with other people, so I ended up going in a circle with whole bunch of girls in sparkle dresses and was jumping with them." She also shared a suggestion for the upcoming dances, "I liked the music, but I wish the speakers were more spread out instead of directly in the front. "My ears were ringing!"

Meet the Cheer Squad

"Prep work includes daily practice schedules, stretching, et cetera," said Coach Lisa Carr. "Especially since as a coach, you know your athletes come first. From health and well-being to performance, everything you do is to help them succeed. Staying on top of your game is crucial for that success." When asked about what it takes to become a coach, Carr told yearbook staff, "The American Association of Cheerleading Coaches and Administration certificates are required every 3 years. This is now an online course. As well as first aid and CPR which is needed every 2 years."

This year, Banned Book Week was October 1st through the 7th. Books are challenged for all sorts of reasons, as shown in the graph on the next page.

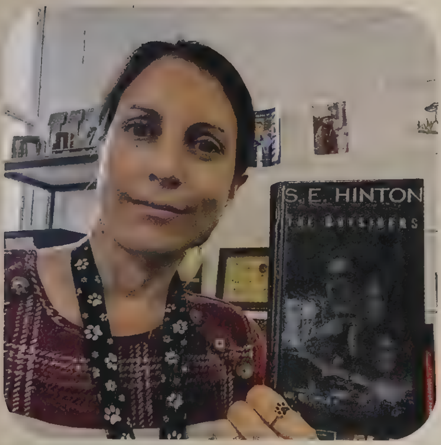
THE HATE U GIVE

Teacher's Favorite



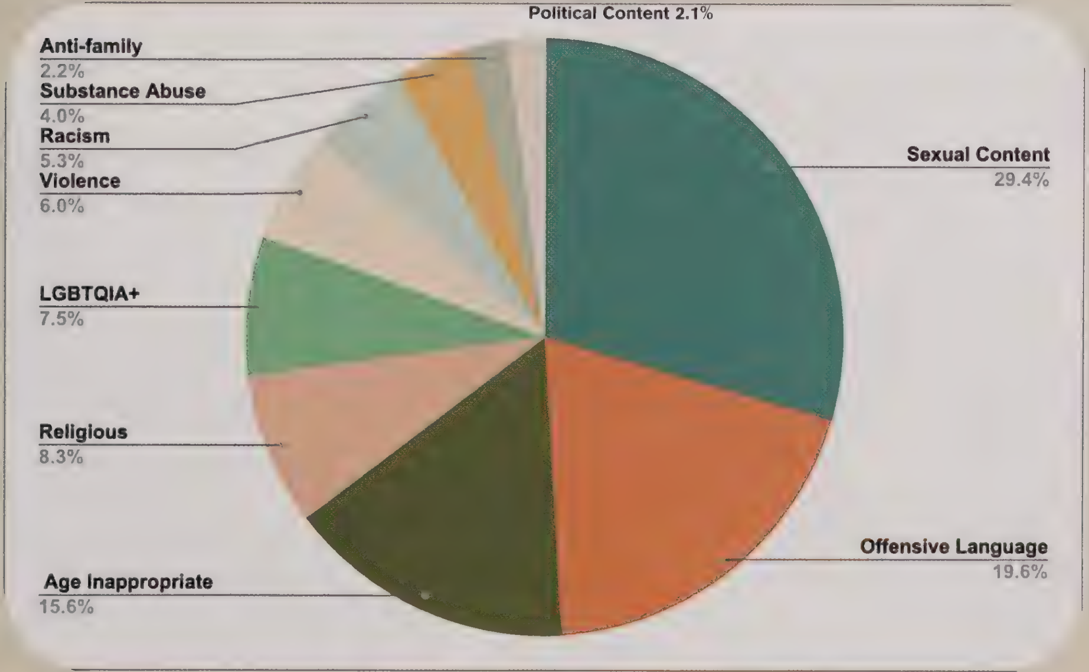
"Banning books is a way to stifle perspective and promote living in a closed-off world that only divulges choice material instead of uncovering all of history and celebrating diversity, open-mindedness, and creativity, I think this is dependent on a lot of factors and should be the choice of the student and/or parent, but at the high school level, there are not many books, if any, that would be deemed inappropriate."
- Crystal Weimer NHS Faculty

NEW KID
JERRY CRAFT

"Many of the books I love and share have been challenged. Students are often so surprised at how many beloved books are included in the long list such as The Giver, Charlotte's Web. and The Outsiders. Look up why The Lorax was a challenged book and you will see that every book can offend someone. The solution to this exists in our library. There is a book for everyone! ." - Ali Schilpp NMS Faculty

"Librarians and booksellers have always had to convince people of their relevance. A new level of frustration is now based on people who haven't done their due diligence, by reading what they wish to challenge or ban. Not only does this hurt our youth, but it also causes professional doubt. Those of us who deal in the written word, want to promote all kinds of reading opportunities and we should be allowed to do so as experts in collection development."
- Samantha roller NHS faculty

Top Reasons Books Are Banned



FASHION 23-24

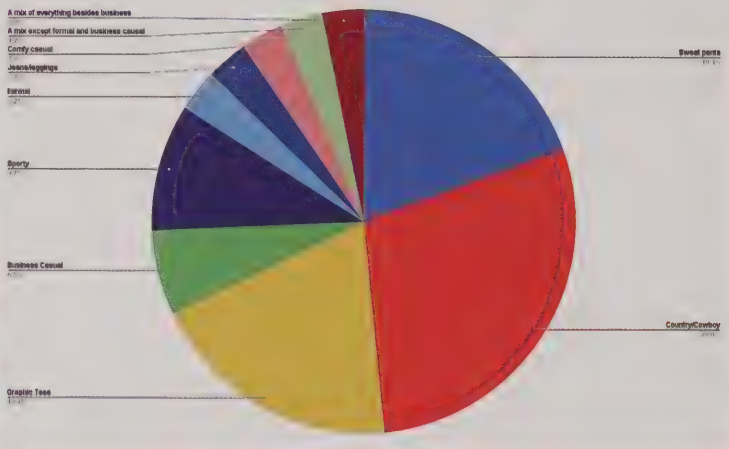
Day to day, Northern students tend to favor neutral colors, like black and gray, or muted blues.

Aquas, greens, and pinks were popular at the spring fling dance this year.

what's fashion like in 2023?

The way we dress is an important way of expressing ourselves and our identities. We're going to find out how our students express themselves by clothing, what style is trending and what fashion is like at NHS in 2023.

what's your style?



This survey had 7 questions, and was conducted from November 8th to 14th between 31 students.

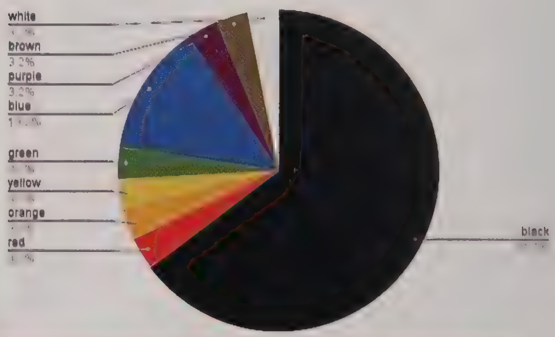
1. The style that NHS students prefer and wear the most was Country/Cowboy, as it had 29%. Sweat pants and Graphic Tees followed up next with 19.4%.
2. 61.3% of the students who participated in this survey answered that the color they usually wear is black.

what fashion trends do you hate?

27 responses

3. This question had 27 responses, which became the question with the most answers. We had various answers such as "vintage", "Pajama pants as regular pants", "I don't follow fashion trends", "cowboy", "wearing sport warm up to school", "mullet", "baggy clothing", and "skinny jeans".

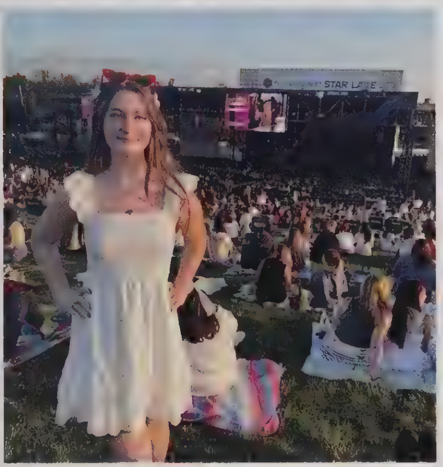
what colors do you wear?



Lydia Secrist and Saige Frazee (Both 10) went to a Lana Del Rey Concert in October of 2023. "We had the best night of our lives and I wouldn't have picked anyone else to go with!" - Lydia Secrist

CONCERTS '23

There were dozen of concerts in 2023, the most famous being "The Eras Tour" that was preformed by Taylor Swift. With the amount of tickets being sold was 1,186,314 with the average ticket price being $253.56. The amount of money Taylor Swift made in total is $13,627,946. Let's hear our students' experiences of attending concerts!



Maria Bequette (12) has been an avid listener of Lana Del Rey since 2020. One of Maria's biggest dreams was to see her in concert. In October 2023, she went to a concert in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania with her mother and got to listen to Lana's music live. When asked how the experience was, she said, "It was everything I could ever imagine, but trying to leave after the concert was a nightmare!"

Kaydance Beachy (12) and Madison Hook (11) went to a Taylor Swift Concert in June of 2023. "We had the time of our lives!"

Madison Humphrey (12) not only made it to a Taylor Swift concert last summer (Above), but at another concert, Humphrey got to meet the performer, Caleb Lee Hutchinson (Left)!

Madison Humphrey (12) and her friends went to the Taylor Swift concert in June, 2023 and got floor seats! "It was one of the most memorable moments of my life! She has been one of my favorite singers since I was a kid." - Madison Humphrey

THE COLDER MONTHS

The snow is falling and the days are getting shorter. Cold bus rides start our mornings making us hope, from time to time, to see that little alert that school is canceled. Gather your boots, your coats, and your loved ones for the long haul of winter.

2024's TEAM OF

MOCK TRIAL

This year, the Mock Trial team, led by Brian Price and Elizabeth Cortez, focused on a civil case in which two neighbors couldn't see eye to eye, which resulted in a high school student to get injured. The students who played as witnesses were: Phoebe Frantz , Logan Frazee , Zoe Dolan, Skyla Molek , Sarah Hamilton Rumer , and Joy Curtis. These students' jobs were to answer questions from a direct that their lawyers wrote for them, and also answer questions from a cross-examination from the lawyers on the other team. Answering questions from the cross-examination requires you to think fast and improvise with little preparation as to what they will ask. Mr. Price discussed the benefits for the students: "It helps with self esteem, it helps with being assertive..." The lawyers, Samantha Dolan, Serenity Bunner, Kaitlin Allen , Mikayla Frazee , Hailey Wildesen , and Laura Huelskamp , worked to construct a direct for their witnesses, a cross-examination for the other team's witnesses, and an opening and a close. This is a huge responsibility and can take weeks. "It's really stressful the very first time you object to somebody else's question in a court, in front of a judge," Price said.

BLIND SKIER

COMING DOWN THE MOUNTAIN

BLIND SKIER

Senior Maddie Allen, equipped for the slopes, listens to her 9-year-old skiing partner before they head to the chairlift. "I wanted to help people who can't ski on their own," Maddie said. Maddie's skiing partner is about to take the slopes blind–not only is it her first time on the mountain, but she is visually impaired. The Blind Skier program pairs seeing volunteers with non-seeing partners who want to try the winter sport. How is it possible? With a bamboo stick! "Two skiers–the guides–they stand on each side and there's the blind skier in the middle," said Maddie. With a bit of patience and careful maneuvering, she and her sister, Katie Allen teach students how to maneuver on their skis to get down the mountain. "It's a long day," Maddie said. "You're in pizza the whole time, so it makes your legs really tired."

Maddie joined the blind skiers, a program that has existed for over a decade, for her third season this winter. "It's amazing how far they've come," she said, "because they keep coming back each year, and it's cool to see how their skiing has developed over the years." This year, Maddie worked with a newbie who was determined to get some speed on the hill. "She was super funny. She yelled at me and my sister for not having a boyfriend because she's 9 and she already has a crush." Up on the mountain, in the cold and windy air, Maddie and her sister taught a new friend how to handle herself on skis.

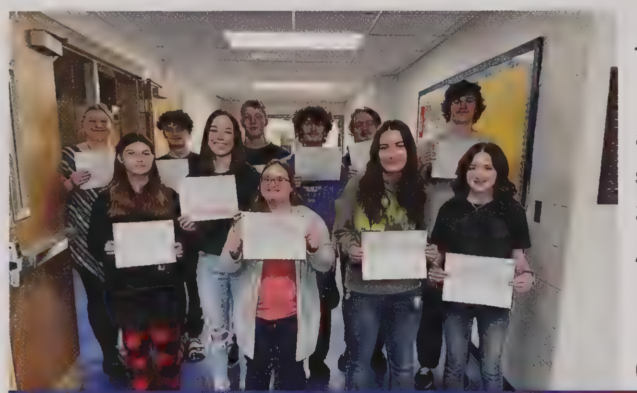
Mental Health

Mental health is something that changes and affects people's lives deeply. People might be different than usual because of their conditions of mental health, and it's normal. However, there are many people who don't know to deal with mental health or how to get help, and it might be harder for teenagers who are confused and go through different emotions. Always remember that there are people who want to see you succeed, and a lot of them are here at NGHS.

FLOCK
TOGETHER



This year, students were nominated for the "Positive Husky Habits" Award by any teacher who witnessed students helping another student, cheering on a friend, looking after someone struggling, or doing anything that strengthened our community. See the March recipients left.

Words From students

NGHS yearbook staff conducted an anonymous survey. Here's what some students said...

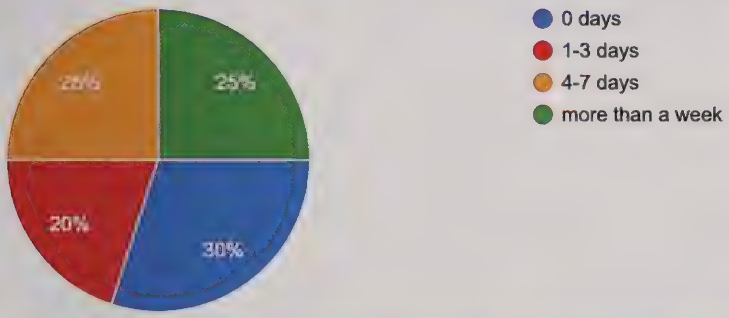
What is something you need help with that you're scared to ask for help with?

1. "How to stop hating myself and how do I help everyone get better. Why do I hurt myself when I'm upset, why can I not stand myself."
2. "Anxiety"
3. "Grades"
4. "Not scared to ask for help. Just don't want to seem like I'm broken."

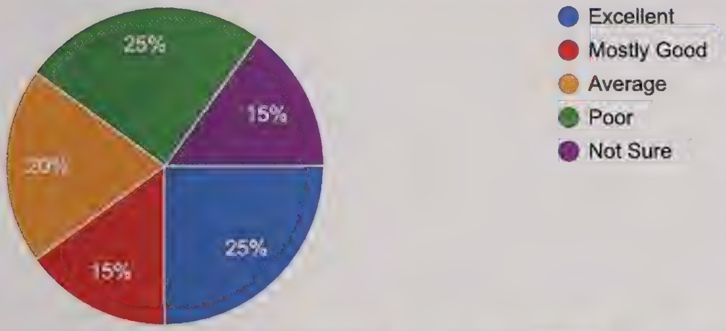
What's something you wish the school would do to accommodate mental health?

1. "Let some absences be used for mental health days when needed if they have a history and when school/counselor knows."
2. "Less school"
3. "An after school text therapy"
4. "Give us less work and more school breaks"
5. "Make people have a better understanding of it"

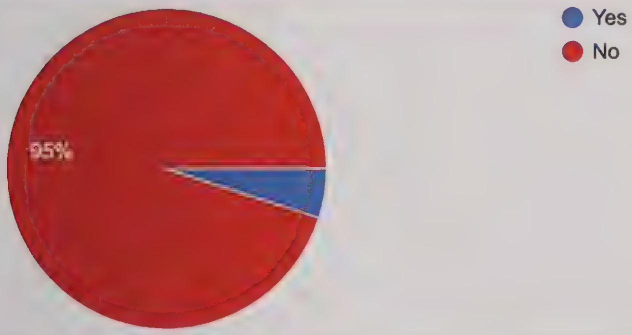
1) During the past 4 weeks, how often has your mental health affected your ability to get work done?



2) How would you rate your mental health?



3) Do you want to get help but don't know how to get help?



National Teenage Suicide rate

According to the 2022 National Healthcare Quality and Disparities Report, Nearly 20% of children and young people ages 3-17 in the United States have a mental, emotional, developmental, or behavioral disorder, and suicidal behaviors among high school students increased more than 40% in the decade before 2019. Another way to say that is,

You are not alone.

1 in 5 American children struggle with their mental health. That number has increased recently, thanks in no small part to the COVID-19 pandemic. Readjusting to life after the fact and making up for that lost time is challenging, but if you are struggling, you are not the only one. Even among NHS students who completed our survey, we found a broad diversity of mental health.

Make sure you know what resources are available to you. Speak to your counselor

How To Get Help

There are multiple resources at NHS and in Garrett County for our students to reach out to, which include school psychological services, mental health programs at Maryland and Garrett County health department and many more.

Through our school psychological service, you can contact Dr. Allyson Marts at NHS via email allyson.martz@garrettountyschools.org

There are lists of programs for mental health on Garrett County Health Department website: https://garretthealth.org/mental-health/

You can also check out the list of local mental health providers on Garrett County Public School website: https://www.gcps.net/Page/2504

THIS YEAR'S SEASON

Unified Bocce ball was introduced to NHS in 2012 and it was a great turn out this year in 2024. "All of the kids, athletes and helpers, had a great experience and enjoyed playing bocce this year. The NHS bocce team was also able to introduce bocce to all of the Garrett County Elementary Schools and was able to host the NHS Middle School Bocce Match," says Coach Greg Beachy. "The NHS Unified Bocce team competed in 5 different matches throughout the year."

Many students took the chance to express themselves on the dance floor and others took the opportunity to take photos with the spring backdrop! Many students had a great time and enjoyed themselves on this fantastic night.

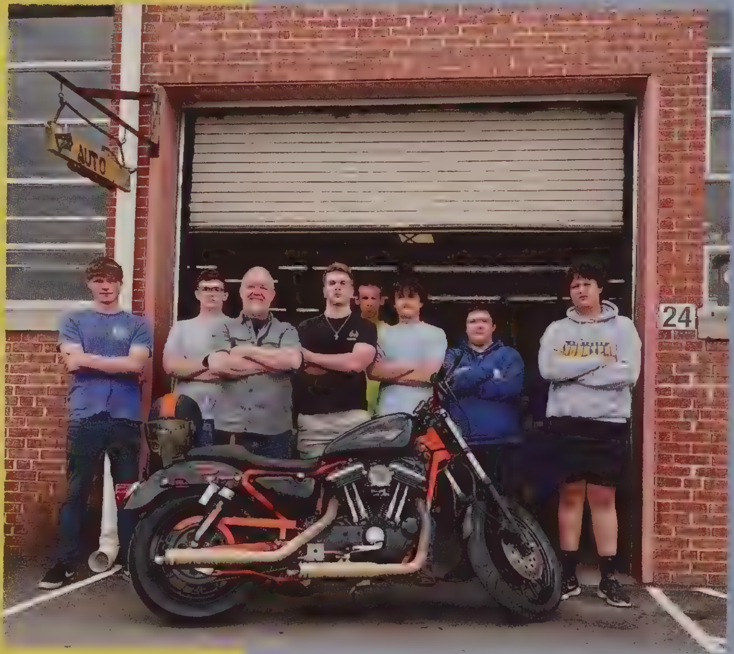
AUTO MECHANICS

Auto students this year worked with Mr. Jenkins on diagnosing problems with vehicles and then solving them. The crew worked on a rare vehicle this year, Mr. Jenkins's 1998 Harley Davidson Sportster 1200 sport. "It was in pretty rough shape," said senior Joe Burris. "We tore it down to the bare frame. Now we're throwing it all back together." Burris has been in Auto classes all four years at NGHS and he has learned a lot. "This is the best year I've had," he said. "Mr. Jenkins is really trying to get us interested and to go in-depth. This is his personal motorcycle we're working on. Everyone called him crazy, but this is the coolest project we've done to date." And they work on many projects, from replacing blown head gaskets to tearing down engine blocks to polishing and shining up their finished work. Teachers and other supporters of the program bring their vehicles to Jenkins's class as if it were a proper auto shop. "It's kind of like doctor work. They tell us the symptoms, then we have to figure out what's actually wrong with the car. Then we'll dive in."

Mr. Jenkins and Jo Burris were kind enough to show us a test run on the Sportster as well as on a four-wheeler the class engine-swapped for Mr. Jenkins's grandson.



Chaise Winters (11), Jaiden Adams (12), Mr. Roy Jenkins, Joe Burris (12), Samuel Guingrich (11), Pierce Shaffer (12), Randy Rounds (12), and Dawson Tice (12) show off their handiwork.

Senior Jo Burris fires up the 4-wheeler for a drive in the parking lot as Mr. Jenkins and Pierce Shaffer (12) admire their work

CARPENTRY

In Mr. Beitzel's carpentry class, students who have finished their assigned projects find time to experiment with their own projects. Similar to Mr. Jenkins's auto shop, Mr. Beitzel's Carpentry shop also operate like a business, taking commission work, like the tree house and the shed they have built this year, and selling projects they have made throughout the year at an end-of-the-year shop sale.

Freshman Erica Mager seals boards together with wood glue and a vice before planing them to the desired width. "After I cut it to the size I want it, I can use it for my birdhouse," she says.

Tasha Miller (9) takes an orbital sander to her and her partner's birdhouse project.

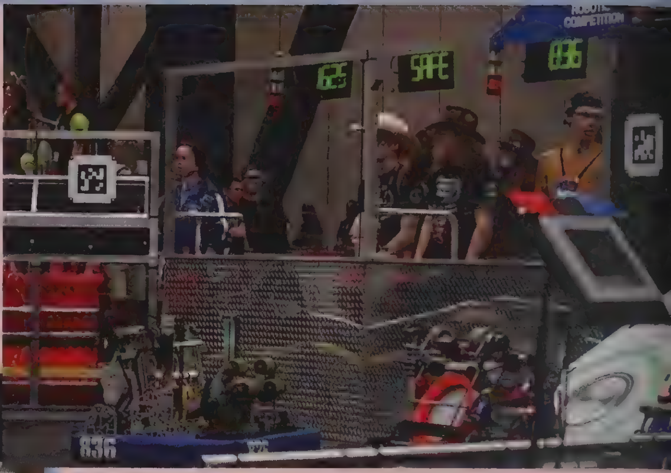
Coach Chuck Trautwein tells us the robotics team had a very successful year. "GaCo finished its season with a 42-12-0 record in official match play and ended up ranked 12th in the Chesapeake District which is composed of approximately 120 teams throughout Maryland, DC and Virginia," He said. "The team pre-qualified to compete at the FIRST Championship in Houston and advanced to the quarterfinals in their division - which is as far as the team has ever advanced in its 20 year history."



"In addition to their robot, the team makes a system-wide impact to all students in our school system," said Mr. Trautwein. "GaCo high school students teach highly engaging STEM 'Waypoint' lessons to all second, third, fourth and fifth grade students in Garrett County." This year's team included Sophia Rankin (12), Malea Fullerton (11), Kiara Perando (11), Mikayla Frazee (11), Eoin Elica (11), Jessalyn Simmons (9) and Eden Rankin (9).

THEATRE

This year, the Theatre program put on two comedies with first-year teacher, Mr. McEwen. Greater Tuna, a radio show about Tuna, Texas opened the season in the fall. Cozy Drinks

We all need a sweet, hot drink that warms our hands in the freezing cold winter. Or some people might like to have iced-drinks when it snows. What's your favorite drink to get cozy with?

The yearbook staff conducted a survey about the choice of beverages of NHS students, 25 students participated and shared their unique choices.

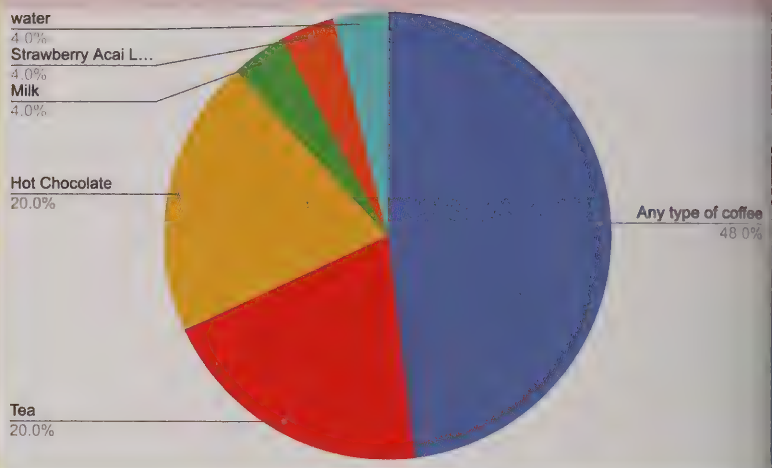
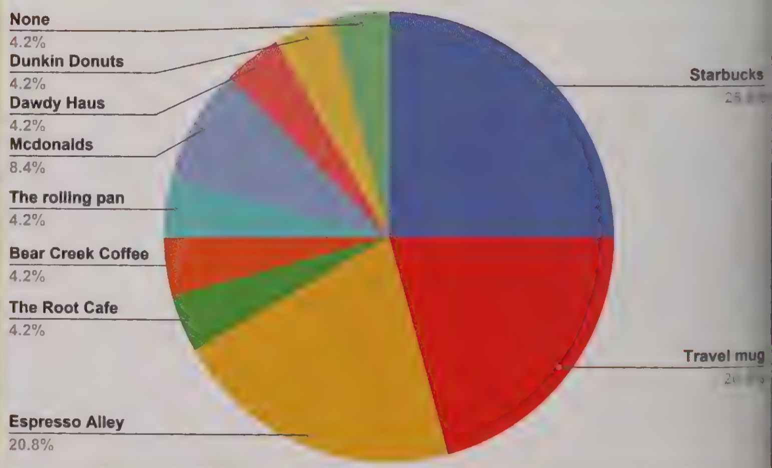
THE travel mug

What's your favorite drink to get cozy with?



Perhaps unsurprisingly, nearly half of NGHS students rely on coffee for comfort. Add to them our tea-drinkers and you can see that two thirds of our students like to keep themselves caffeinated!

Favorite place to order drinks?



Our students' favorite cafe was Starbucks, which accounted 25% of the answers. The Travel Mug and Espresso Alley followed next with 20.8% each. Some students were acquainted with the Travel Mug for the first time at NGHS when they visited for a special occasion.

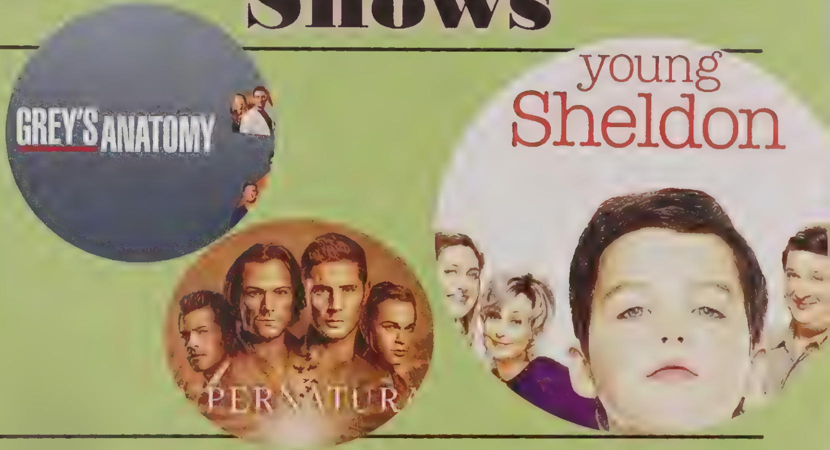
ANYONE BUT YOU

Last summer, we were hit with the Barben-Heimer craze, but Margot Robbie and Cillian Murphy weren't the only stars to capture our attention. Timothee Chalamet and Zendaya stole the screen in Dune: Part Two while Tom Blythe and Rachel Zegler revamped the Suzanne Collins's 2010s franchise with The Hunger Games: Ballad of Songbirds and Snakes

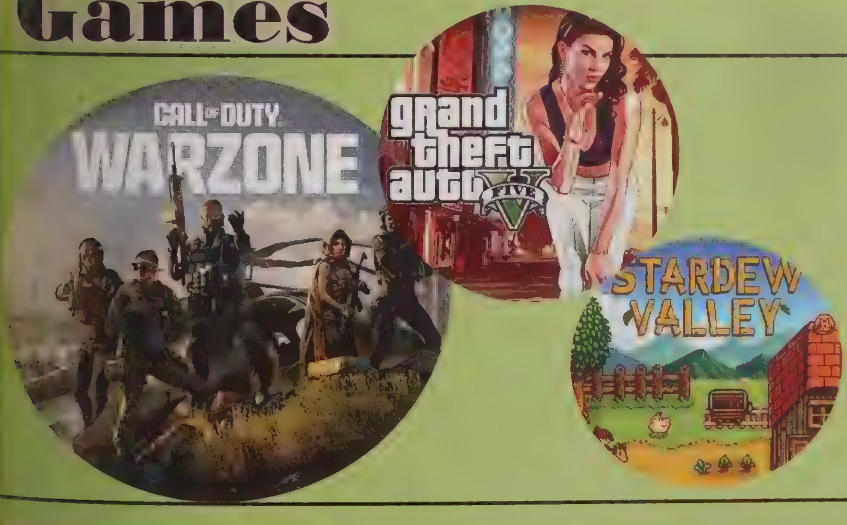
Shows



GREY'S ANATOMY
young Sheldon
PERNATUR

Students were watching a lot this school year, but it looks like reruns were on most students' lists. Grey's Anatomy, Young Sheldon, and Supernatural were most popular, but students are still watching Rick and Morty, Pretty Little Liars, The Walking Dead, and One Piece as well.

Games



CALL OF DUTY
WARZONE

STARDEW VALLEY

Games were spread this year, with some favoring RPGs, like GTA5 or Baldur's Gate 3, and some going after more relaxing games, like Stardew Valley and Roblox. Still, the undisputed champ is the reigning FPS franchise, Call of Duty.

MARCHING BAND

"We've had a hard period, but we made it back up," says Field Commander Abbi Kight. Ms Cook has been Kight's fourth band director over her six-year career. But with her, she says, the band has been thriving. "Mr. Schilpp has gone to all our performances. Having a supportive principal has helped us a lot this year."

Xavier House and Alec "AJ" Miller don their welding hoods to show off the kind of work they do in Mrs. Yost's room. "It's called Ag Mechanics," House explained, and their FFA chapter travels to competitions to compete in Ag Mechanic skills like welding, small engines, parts identification, environmental and natural resource science, and machinery and equipment. Both of them performed well at regionals this year. "I got first out of all 34 and he got second," Miller told us. "He beat me by 2 points," House added, making AJ laugh.

The two showed us around the workshop, from their electrical circuitry practice to the greenhouse where FFA holds a plant sale every spring. Both boys plan to pursue a career in welding, thanks in no small part to their experiences in Mrs. Yost's room.

This year's class of 2024 was a lot less crazy than it was in the last 3 years, but overall it's been a great one. Senior year can be known as a stressful time with getting jobs, graduating, worries with grades, getting into good colleges, etc, but this year was just like a memorable breeze.

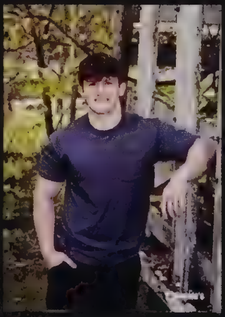
Blake Hunter Chaney!
We are so proud of the young man that you have become. You have overcome so much. Keep it up! May God continue to watch over and bless you.
Love, Mom, Dad and Kyle.

Katelyn Vansickle

Our daughter, we love you for the little girl you once were. For the amazing person you are today and for the precious daughter you always will be. We are so proud of you.

Love Dad, Mom and Jacob

Jared Graham



Congratulations, Jared!

We love you and we're so proud of you.

Love,
Mom and Dad

Kyle Broadwater

Kyle,
You achieve every goal you set for yourself. We are so proud of you! Always aim high and follow God's lead. Lots of love.

Madison Humphrey

To our beautiful baby girl,

In this turbulent world, you are a rock for which many friends turn to for a shoulder to cry on or a helping hand. You have always been "Mother Madison" because of your strong and kind personality and ability to handle anything that is put before you. You aren't afraid to go from glitz and glam to mudding in dirt. Congratulations on this big milestone and continue be the brave, resilient, strong, loving sour patch kid (woman) you are. You will go far in this life. Anything you want you can achieve as long as you reach for it. Shoot for the stars!!

Love,
Dad, Mom and Kait

Way to go, Joe!

It seems like yesterday you graduated from kindergarten, and now you are graduating from high school! Your determination, inquisitive mind, strong will and resourcefulness will take you as far as you want to go.

You're a good man with a big heart, and God has big plans for you, Joe Burris!

We love you and are proud to be your parents. We look forward to seeing what you'll achieve next. Keep the faith, and the rest will fall into place.

Thanks for the Memories!

The last Burris has flown the Northern Garrett High School nest. We have been so very blessed to be a part of this community. Moving here six years ago was a leap of faith, and we are filled with gratitude for the opportunities, friendships, hospitality and welcome from the staff, teachers and good people of Garrett County. We are happy to call this place our home!

We will miss the day-to-day part of being at Northern, and we will continue to support, volunteer and stay connected to the NGHS family, especially cheering on our Huskies!

Class of 2020 Ben Burris
Class of 2022 Josh Burris
Class of 2024 Joe Burris

Thank you,

Bill & Mary Burris

Arianna Koontz

Anna,

We are so proud of the incredible young woman you have grown to be! Your intelligence will take you far in life, but your kind, caring heart will take you everywhere. A bright, beautiful future awaits you, sweetie...go get it!

We Love You!

Love,

Mom & Chris,

Babah & Pap,

Lexi & Mason
